Hello everybody! My name is Munch. I also answer to the name Mun-Mun. I am a six-year-old kitty who's as easy going as they come and was living a happy life with my family until, well, they had a baby. I really am not fond of the rather loud and mobile new member of the family and have been hiding whenever this person is out and about. My family and I have tried for over a year now to make it work, but the truth is I am just not fond of a loud, toddling presence in my space and would be happier in a home that's a little quieter. I've lived just fine with a dog (see adorable picture above) and am really an easy going girl in every other way. I'm affectionate but am not one of those kitties who constantly needs attention. I'm happy just purring in your lap while you work on your computer or relax in front of the TV. I like sleeping at the foot of the bed as well. I don't shed very much, but I enjoy being groomed, and I have never bitten, clawed, or even hissed at anyone. I have been spayed and am up to date on all my shots. My owners love me so much that if you'd like a trial adoption to make sure it works out, that's fine.
